GATHERED IN SOUTH SCRANTON

ELOQUENT ADDRESS BY A. V. BOWER, ESQ., LAST NIGHT.

Spoke Before a Large Audience in the Y. W. C. A. Rooms on "A Great Life" Which He Said Was a Life of Servitude—Prof. Arthur Classen, Who Will Direct the Brooklyn Saengerfest to Lead the Maennerchor in Rehearsal Tonight—Funeral of George Nehr.

"A Great Life" was the subject of an eloquent address given before a crowded house in the rooms of the South Scranton Young Women's Christian association last night by A. V. Bower, esq. The address was preceded by a short musical entertainment.

Mr. Bower, in his opening remarks, stated that he did not come there to use fine, flowery expressions, or extravagant figures of speech, but simply to give a helpful and practical talk.

"Great men," he said, "are not great because they have a wrong conception of life." "Their entire aim is the accumulation of wealth and of the world's goods without putting it to any practical use whatever."

"A great life is a life of service, and there is no other greatness than the good of our fellow men and those who do something for some one; those who help to brighten a sad life or lift a burden; live a great life in the sight of God, if not in the sight of man."

He then drew several fine illustrations of the man who works for himself alone, and the man who works for the benefit of others.

"The world's greatest men," said he, "in conclusion, 'are the world's greatest servants. God himself only is great, because he is a servant, ministering to the needs of his people. The pages of history those men who are great in man's sight, and not one of them will stand as great in God's sight. The world calls them great, but they are not great. A great life is a life that is something and that does something; a life that lightens burdens, helps and cheers."

The general fireman team, attached to their heavy hose cart, came dashing down Dickson street, the hose being unrolled by the turn in front of the Green Ridge house, a sprig of hose attached to a single carriage and driven by a man on his way to notify the fire alarm.

The hose was jerked then onto the right and crossed the Delaware and Hudson tracks at the depot without apparently losing a moment's time and missing the other hose only by some ten or twelve inches.

CENSUS SCHEDULES. Are Being Distributed by the Census Office to the Enumerators—They Contain Many Questions.

The blank schedules to be used in the next census are now being distributed. The census office to the enumerators, who will start to work on June 1. The schedules contain questions which some persons may think prying, purposeless, or excessive in number. But their number and character have been determined by congress, not by the census office, and all of them have been asked in previous censuses. The only important change since 1890 is that some questions have been abandoned.

People are often offended at the question, "How old are you?" and are apt to wonder what use the government can make of their replies. Taken as a whole the replies are as important as any class of information the census office collects.

Age returns penetrate and elucidate every other branch of statistical knowledge. They show where the labor of the population is being expended, and persons able to support themselves are large or small. They reveal the great number of colored children and the short life of the negroes under present conditions. They make it possible to ascertain whether the average length of life is increasing or decreasing. How many men the nation contains who are capable of voting or of bearing arms, and whether the relative number of children is increasing or decreasing.

In Mohammedan or semi-civilized countries like India householders are often unwilling to answer the questions regarding the sex of persons in the house, but in civilized countries where the sexes are regarded as on an equality, such unwillingness does not appear. The answers to the questions show that in nearly all cities the female outnumber the males and that the same is true of most of the states along the Atlantic coast. The belief is widespread that taking the world in general there are more females alive at any given time than males, and that if it were not for immigration there would be more females in the United States than males. But census statistics show that we can not explain the great excess of males (over one and a half million) in the United States by immigration alone, for when the foreign-born are left out of account, there are still above 600,000 more males than females.

Few would dispute the necessity for asking questions regarding race. All arguments regarding the future of any particular race in this country, like the Indian, the negro, or the Chinaman, must hinge upon the returns in the census. With the Indians, moreover, it is of the highest importance to learn what success the policy of the government has met with in establishing them apart from their tribes and reservations, and whether such Indians are increasing or decreasing.

Some mothers may shrink from stating the number of children they have had and the number who are living. But from the answers to these questions, the country will learn whether the native American population is holding its own, or whether, as some have claimed, it is being gradually supplanted and displaced by the children of recent immigrants.

In the light of such explanations, and only a few of the most important questions have been touched upon. It may perhaps be clear to the public that no question has been ordered by congress, or has been asked by the census office which, if properly and correctly answered, will not lead to suggestive inferences regarding the American people and their work.

Contractor John J. Fahy will begin work this morning on the Schultz court sewer and expects to have it completed within the required three months. He will commence at the corner of Linden street and Schultz court and work north.

The work on the Scranton street sewer is not progressing as rapidly as it was at first hoped it would, owing to the fact that a deal of rock has been met with and the work is nearly all up hill. City Engineer Phillips will not allow Contractor Gibbons to begin work on the section B sewer in North Scranton this week as had been hoped, as the material for its construction has not yet arrived and he is determined to allow no street to be opened until everything is on hand.

Mrs. Anthony Sutter, Crestline, Ohio, writes: "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM: It would be hard to explain to you my condition before using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was a great sufferer from kidney trouble and headache. On rising in the morning I was always tired and sleepy, and never felt like doing any work. Since taking the Compound I feel like a new woman. I sleep well at night, and can work all day without that tired feeling. I have advised some of my friends to try it, and we all feel thankful for the benefit we have derived from its use. May God bless you for the good you are doing the poor suffering women!"

Mrs. F. H. Allen, 419 Nebraska Avenue, Toledo, Ohio, writes: "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM: Change of life was working on me. My kidneys and bladder were affected. Terrible pains when urinating and an itching that nearly drove me wild. I had tried many remedies. I told my husband I had great faith in yours and he got me a bottle; I am now on my fourth bottle. I feel that I am entirely cured. I can work all day. I can hardly realize that such a wonderful cure is possible. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the best medicine for women."

Miss Lockhart Tells How Her Life Was Saved.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM: I cannot express my gratitude to you for the good that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I had the worst kind of kidney trouble, fainting spells, and I could not stand long at a time. I also had female weakness and the doctor said there was a tumor in my left side. The pains I had to stand were something dreadful. A friend handed me a little book of yours, so I got your medicine and it has saved my life. I felt better now from the first bottle. The bloating and the tumors have all gone and I do not suffer any pain." Miss N. J. Lockhart, Box 16, Elizabeth, Pa.

Mrs. Arhambo Took Mrs. Pinkham's Advice.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM: For two years I felt tired and so weak and dizzy that some days I could hardly go around the house.

Backache and headache all the time and my food would not digest and had such pains in the womb, was troubled with leucorrhoea and kidneys were affected. After birth of each child I grew weaker, and hearing so much of the good you had done, I wrote to you and have taken six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, one box of Lozenges, one box of Liver Pills, one package of Sanative Wash, and to-day I am feeling as well as I ever did." Mrs. Salina Archambo, Charlemont, Mass.
